TO A DEAR FRIEND FAR AWAY.

While in and lonely musings
Of the changing scenes of time,
To my memory's saddest
Many thoughts of Auld Langsyne;
In the days of my youth
Still there linger thoughts combined
Of the pure, exalted virtue
In that friend I left behind.

Ne'er can Time's relentless intruder
Those things I love so well,
In my heart of hearts diminish
Love which only death can still;
Many summer friends surround me,
And many kind and true to me,
Still that void is never altered
Since my thoughts are swept in thee.

Those happy hours we spent together,
Oh how quickly were they passed,
So replete with friendship's pleasure
That the bright dream could not last;
But how sweet the recollection
To my lonely heart is given,
That if each heart were met over
A low summer friend's around me.

On my fond heart's tablets
Other friends' names are given,
May they ever be some slight measure
A reminder to thee given;
I shall never forget the pleasure
Of that woodland stroll with thee,
When to me thou gavest a treasure
Still as dear as life to me.

Thou art far in real distance,
But in fancy's pleasant train
Thou art lingering ever near me,
Requelling my sad heart from pain;
Thou art overcast with sorrow,
Thou art, perchance, bowed down in pain,
Thou hast given sweet assurance
Which shall give me heart again.

Oh how well I do remember,
That, sitting 'neath that old oak tree,
Thou to me didst give a promise
To ever true and faithful be.
Perhaps, when far on life's vast ocean
You cast a lingering look behind,
Love may be in some proportion
In our friendship's wealth entwined.

If my frail bark, launched on life's billows,
Should their frenzied rage withstand,
I should I ever be permitted
Again to see that distant land,
Where thy bright and joyous presence
Gleams like a star in the night,
There may I in perfect pleasure
Pass my life with thee in peace.

How Peter Bennett Won His Case in Court.

A correspondent of the New York World has the following respecting one of A. H. Stephens' experiences as a lawyer in Georgia in the anti-bellum days:

"A doctor named Royston had sued Peter Bennett for his bill, long overdue, for attending the wife of the latter. Alex. H. Stephens was on the Bennett side, Robert Toombs, then Senator of the United States, was for Royston. The doctor proved his number of visits, their value according to local custom, and his own authority to do medical practice. Mr. Stephens told his client that the physician had made out his case, and as there was nothing wherewith to rebut or offset the claim the only thing to do was to pay it."

"No," said Peter, "I hired you to speak in my case and now speak."

Mr. Stephens told him there was nothing to say; he had looked to see if it was made out, and it was.

Peter was obstinate, and at last Mr. Stephens told him to make a speech himself, if he thought one could be made.

"I will," said Peter Bennett, "if Bobby Toombs won't be too hard on me."

Senator Toombs promised, and Peter began.

"Gentlemen of the Jury—You and I are plain farmers, and if you don't stick together these 'ere lawyers and doctors will get the advantage of us. I ain't no lawyer nor doctor, and I ain't no objections to them in their proper place; but they ain't farmers, gentlemen of the jury."

"Now this man Royston was a new doctor, and I went for him to doctor my wife's leg. And he come and put some silver truck on it and some rags, but never done it one bit of good; gentlemen of the jury. I don't believe he is a doctor, no way. There is doctors as is doctors sure enough, but this man don't earn his money; and if you send for him, as Mrs. Atkinson did, for a negro boy as was worth $1,000, he just killed him and wanted pay for it."

"I don't," said Peter, "asked Peter, with the slow accents of a judge with a black cap on."

The doctor was silent, and Peter proceeded.

"As I was sayin', gentlemen of the jury, we farmers when we sell our cotton, has to give value for the money we get; and doctors ain't none too good to be put to the same rule. And I don't believe this Sam. Royston is no doctor, no how."

The physician again put in his ear, with, "Look at my diploma, if you think I am no doctor."

"His diploma!" exclaimed the fledgling orator, with great contempt. "His diploma! Gentlemen, that is a big word for printed sheetkins, and it didn't make no dots of the sheep as first wore it, does it out of the man that now carries it? A good newspaper has more in it, and I pint out to you that he ain't no doctor at all."

The man of medicine was now in a fury, and screamed out: "Ask my patients if I am not a doctor."

"I asked my wife," retorted Peter, "and she said as how she thought you wasn't."

"Ask my other patients," said Dr. Royston.

This seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back, for Peter replied with a look and tone of unutterable sadness: "That is a hard sayin', gentlemen of the jury, and one as requires me to die or to have power as I have heard tell ceased to be exercised since the Apostles. Does he expect me to bring the angel Gabriel down to toot his horn and cry aloud, 'Awake ye dead; and tell this court and jury your opinion of Royston's practice?'"

Am I to go to the lonely churchyard, and rap on the silent tomb, and say to 'em as is at last rest from physic and doctor's bills, 'Get up here and state if you died a natural death, or was hurried away by some doctor?'"

He says ask his patients, and, gentle-

The Duty of Democrats and Greenback Men.

[Baltimore Enquirer.]

Those who would desert the Democratic party to join the National or Independent should consider the recent legislation in Congress and ask themselves what there is to be gained by such a step. It will be remembered that the Resumption act, which was passed by the Republicans on a strict party vote, contemplated the cancellation and destruction of United States legal tender notes down to $300,000,000. But the Democrats have recently succeeded in passing a bill through both Houses of Congress preventing the reduction of the legal tender circulation below the present figure. The amount of greenbacks at the present time is about $145,000,000. Under the resumption law $45,000,000 of these greenbacks would have been called in and canceled within the next few months but for the law just passed. This bill, however, prevents the threatened contraction, and will keep the present volume of currency outstanding, which is equivalent to adding $45,000,000 to the permanent legal tender circulation of the country. The Democratic party has thus stopped the contraction policy. If it is given complete control of the government it will constantly legislate in the interests of the people. No man who ever voted the Democratic ticket should now desert the party. If the "National" movement becomes formidable its only effect will be to keep the Republican party in power—the party which passed the Resumption act, originated and maintains our oppressive tariff, and is the creature of the money power.

California Tule Wheat Fields.

In California they never talk about the number of bushels in a crop. It is always stated as so many tons. Speaking of the wheat crop reminds me of the tule lands, and the curious way of cultivating them. (Please pronounce tule as though it was spelled too-la.) Tule is the name of a reed that grows ten feet high on the soil. The tule lands are those vast alluvial bottoms in the great valleys, traversed by the larger rivers that come down from the mountains to the sea. The river banks are dyked by Chinese cheap labor to keep off the waters of the stream from the tule lands on which the crop is to be raised. The tule lands are black, rich muds of the richest sort, and bear enormous crops of wheat. Seventy-five bushels to the acre, and down to forty, is what they name. The lands are too watery and soft bottomed to be plowed in the ordinary manner. So to prevent the plow from drawing the plow, wooden shoes, 9x11 inches, screwed on the iron shoes, are put on the feet of the four horses that draw the plow. Very light ploughing is done. Then the wheat is sown broadcast with a hand machine. The land being soft and miry, it is found impracticable to harrow or drag in the seed when in the usual manner. Therefore flocks of sheep, 500 in a flock, are driven over the field after the seed has been scattered, and the sheep tread in the seed as well as it could be done by harrowing or dragging. The sheep walk across the field compactly, are kept together by shepherd and her Sunday-schools with adjoining schools, will celebrate the day in a pleasant and becoming manner. Evansville, Ind., has invited the distinguished Southern general, Gordon to address them. We suppose General Shackelford, the soldier in blue, will greet the soldier of the grey, and rejoice together in the pleasant ways of peace. Louisville calls the pride of Kentucky in a great champion race with the Golden State of California. Ten Brock, who has made the best time on record, with Mollie McCarthy, who has never been beaten. A gala day, with the fashion of the States to look on a race unequalled in America. Many a bright eyed fellow will feel the bottom of an empty pocket, and sigh for the full purse he had in the morning. No more jolts, a slim supper and a surly landlord. In a good fix to sing, "Carry me back."

The Democratic Convention for Henderson county, to select delegates to the Congressional Convention, has been called to meet on the 20th inst.

Col. John H. McHenry.

We today announce Col. John H. McHenry, of Owensboro, a candidate to represent this District in the next Congress of the United States, subject to the action of a Democratic convention. No clever man ever lived than Col. McHenry. He made a most gallant soldier during the late war, is a man of intelligence, and if elected will make a good and faithful representative. Owing to his announcement getting here so late we can say no more at present. We will speak of him in our next issue. — [Henderson Reporter.]

Texas Letter.

SPANISH FORT, MONTAGUE COUNTY, TEXAS, June 20, 1878.

Editor Herald:

Some time since I took the liberty to send you a short letter which you were kind enough to publish, and also to send me a copy of the HERALD, which was gladly received. Seeing the familiar face of the HERALD made me feel as though I was at home in Kentucky instead of on the frontier in Texas. As you were kind enough to publish my first letter, I take the liberty to send you another, concerning, as the talented Modoc puts it, "craps and things." Crops in this section are fine especially the corn crop. The early part of the season was rather too dry, but we are having plenty of rain now and every thing looks promising. The wheat crop is all harvested, and a large portion of it is threshed. It is said to average about twenty bushels per acre. To a Kentuckian there is something novel about harvesting in Texas. The work is all done by machinery. To see a harvester running, and two men riding on it and binding, would be rather a strange sight in Ohio county, and to see one cutting and binding too, faster than four ordinary men, would be still more strange. The crops are pretty well all in by now, and most of the farmers will have nothing to do until gathering time. There is no tobacco to fence or sucker, no briars to cut, no worms to clean out, and no barns to build or repair. Most of work that will be done from now until September will be gathering beef cattle, marking and branding yearlings, &c. Our District Court is just over. Sent five new representatives to the General Assembly, at Huntsville. There were twenty other candidates, and for fear that they would not declare themselves candidates at the next regular election, they were all sent to the County Hotel for safe keeping. Our county was visited last week by the original owners of the county. A party of seven Indian chiefs made their appearance in full Indian costume at Red River Station, ten miles above here. They were friendly Indians, belonging to the Pawnee tribe, and were traveling under a pass-port. One of the number could speak English, and said he had attended school in Iowa. A small herd of buffalo passed through here last week. Indians and buffalo, both at once, reminded the settlers of the days not very far gone, when the Indians and buffalo were almost the possessors of this country.

Truly Sincerely,

One of our exchanges says: "It is evident that the western part of Kentucky will have the candidate for Governor." We are very sure he has hit the nail on the head, and if he had continued and said, that man will be the Hon. E. Dudley Walker, of Ohio county, he would have spoken two solid facts together, and evidenced to our mind that the editor had sagacity enough to see the result and independence to proclaim it. We observe some of the candidates are aiming to reap advantages from an ill-timed measure, as though the broad Democracy did not cover all the real wants and necessary measures, to the good of the people and the true interest of the nation. The true Jeffersonian Democracy expressed in the platforms of the various States, meets the approval of our talented Walker, who will be warmly supported by the yeomanry of the western counties. Other portions of the State can look up the Lieutenant Governor. We intend to supply you with the Governor.

Here we are.

Our Republican, Greenback and Democratic citizens will meet together on the fourth and enjoy the good old time inspiration drawn from the patriotic words and manly acts of our forefathers. Hartford proposes a picnic, and her Sunday-schools with adjoining schools, will celebrate the day in a pleasant and becoming manner. Evansville, Ind., has invited the distinguished Southern general, Gordon to address them. We suppose General Shackelford, the soldier in blue, will greet the soldier of the grey, and rejoice together in the pleasant ways of peace. Louisville calls the pride of Kentucky in a great champion race with the Golden State of California. Ten Brock, who has made the best time on record, with Mollie McCarthy, who has never been beaten. A gala day, with the fashion of the States to look on a race unequalled in America. Many a bright eyed fellow will feel the bottom of an empty pocket, and sigh for the full purse he had in the morning. No more jolts, a slim supper and a surly landlord. In a good fix to sing, "Carry me back."

The Democratic Convention for Henderson county, to select delegates to the Congressional Convention, has been called to meet on the 20th inst.

Col. John H. McHenry.

We today announce Col. John H. McHenry, of Owensboro, a candidate to represent this District in the next Congress of the United States, subject to the action of a Democratic convention. No clever man ever lived than Col. McHenry. He made a most gallant soldier during the late war, is a man of intelligence, and if elected will make a good and faithful representative. Owing to his announcement getting here so late we can say no more at present. We will speak of him in our next issue. — [Henderson Reporter.]

Texas Letter.

SPANISH FORT, MONTAGUE COUNTY, TEXAS, June 20, 1878.

Editor Herald:

Some time since I took the liberty to send you a short letter which you were kind enough to publish, and also to send me a copy of the HERALD, which was gladly received. Seeing the familiar face of the HERALD made me feel as though I was at home in Kentucky instead of on the frontier in Texas. As you were kind enough to publish my first letter, I take the liberty to send you another, concerning, as the talented Modoc puts it, "craps and things." Crops in this section are fine especially the corn crop. The early part of the season was rather too dry, but we are having plenty of rain now and every thing looks promising. The wheat crop is all harvested, and a large portion of it is threshed. It is said to average about twenty bushels per acre. To a Kentuckian there is something novel about harvesting in Texas. The work is all done by machinery. To see a harvester running, and two men riding on it and binding, would be rather a strange sight in Ohio county, and to see one cutting and binding too, faster than four ordinary men, would be still more strange. The crops are pretty well all in by now, and most of the farmers will have nothing to do until gathering time. There is no tobacco to fence or sucker, no briars to cut, no worms to clean out, and no barns to build or repair. Most of work that will be done from now until September will be gathering beef cattle, marking and branding yearlings, &c. Our District Court is just over. Sent five new representatives to the General Assembly, at Huntsville. There were twenty other candidates, and for fear that they would not declare themselves candidates at the next regular election, they were all sent to the County Hotel for safe keeping. Our county was visited last week by the original owners of the county. A party of seven Indian chiefs made their appearance in full Indian costume at Red River Station, ten miles above here. They were friendly Indians, belonging to the Pawnee tribe, and were traveling under a pass-port. One of the number could speak English, and said he had attended school in Iowa. A small herd of buffalo passed through here last week. Indians and buffalo, both at once, reminded the settlers of the days not very far gone, when the Indians and buffalo were almost the possessors of this country.

On the 24th of this month there is to be at this place a grand barbecue where the fat of the land will be served up in style. At night there will be a grand ball at the hall. The hall is the only public building our town affords, and is used for various purposes, such as a church-house, school-house, and Old Fellows' and Grangers' hall, dancing hall, &c. It sometimes occurs that there is an appointment to dance and preach in the house at the same time. In such a case the majority rules, which is generally the dancing crowd. They have a way of getting rid of troublesome characters in this country, which works like a charm. They just get up a crowd and go and give him a serenade; the instruments they use are revolvers, Winchester rifles, shot guns, &c. The person serenaded seldom needs a second warning. He generally makes it convenient to move to some other part.

E. J. Wagner, our Justice of the Peace, had his mule hung since I have been here. The Esq. interpreters they use are revolvers, Winchester rifles, shot guns, &c. The person serenaded seldom needs a second warning. He generally makes it convenient to move to some other part.

will close, with my respects to my friends and acquaintances in Kentucky and kindest wishes for yourself and paper, I remain yours,

TEXAS JACK.

Letter from McHenry.

McHENRY, KY., June 28, 1878.

Editor Herald:

Trusting to past favors, I intrude again in the columns of your respected paper.

The banks run generally about five days in a week now, consequently business of all kinds is good—the mines being able to buy the produce of the farmers renders the farming business near here tolerably profitable comparatively speaking.

Two men (Kelley and Henry) not agreeing in their views, very readily settled their difference of opinion by engaging in the time-honored pastime of fist and skull. Kelley administered three powerful arguments with his fist on the seat of Henry's intellect. This seeming to satisfy Henry, the argument came to a close with small cost to Kelley and considerable cost to Henry.

Farmers generally are busy finishing plowing corn crops and stacking wheat. Soon the hum and roar of the threshing will be heard in the county. Joshua Renter's sons have just purchased one from Heiman & Co. of Evansville, and will be on the war path next week. H. B. T.

Self-Reliance.

The Scientific American has the following sensible remarks on this subject: Self-reliance, conjoined with promptitude in the execution of our undertakings, is indispensable to success. And yet multitudes live a life of vacillation and consequent failure, because they remain undetermined what to do, or, having decided that, having no confidence in themselves. Such persons need to be assured, but this assurance can be obtained in no other way than by their own success in whatever they may attempt for themselves. If they lean upon others, they not only become dissatisfied with what they achieve, but the success of one achievement, in which they are entitled to credit, partial credit, is no guaranty to them that, unaided, they will not fail in their next experiment. For want of self-reliance and decision of character, thousands are submerged in their first essays to make the voyage of life. Disappointed and chagrined at this, they underestimate their own capacities and their own resources, and, relying on others, they take and keep a subordinate position, from which they rise, when they rise at all, with the utmost difficulty. When a young man attains his majority, it is better for him, as a general rule, to take some independent position of his own, even though the present remuneration be less than he would obtain in the service of others. When at work for himself, in a business which requires and demands foresight, economy and industry, he will naturally develop the strong points of character and become self-reliant.

A glance at the business men of our community will show who have and who have not improved the opportunity of their earlier years. The former transcend their business with ease, promptitude, and profit. They rely upon themselves, and execute what they have to do with energy and dispatch. But those who shirked every thing in their youth are compelled to rely on their clerks, and salesmen for advice, and are never ready to act when occasions of profit arise. Many parents commit a lamentable error in this respect. They lead their children to believe that they can do all things without the constant assistance of their superiors, and after awhile the children become impressed with that idea. Fortunately it is for him when he emerges from the parental roof, if he can at once acquire the self-reliance which has been kept down at home—otherwise he must necessarily fail in whatever independent enterprise he undertakes; and in such a case, while the misfortune of the fault lies at the door of misjudging parents rather than at his own.

Spain.

MADRID, June 27.—The announcement of the death of the Queen of Spain has been received with profound sorrow and sympathy throughout Europe. The feeling in Spain almost approaches consternation. Hopes were raised at the wish of the disease that the vigorous constitution of the Queen might triumph over the complication of maladies; but her condition was made doubly perilous by the fact that she was expected to become a mother before the end of the year. The Queen died about noon, in the arms of the King, and surrounded by the royal family. The remains will lie in state to-day, and be conveyed to the royal mausoleum at Escorial Friday. The President of the medical faculty of the Royal Palace, in a bulletin announcing to the President of the Council of Ministers the death of the Queen, attributes the painful event to nervous gastric fever, accompanied by severe intestinal hemorrhage.

The offer of Russia to secure for Prince Charles of Roumania the dignity of Prince of Bulgaria, is a very strange arrangement to remove all difficulties in regard to the retrocession of Bessarabia to Russia. The Roumanian antagonism to Russia was due entirely to the general disappointment at the merger compensation tendered them by Russia after the brilliant services of Roumanian allies in the Bulgarian campaign. The people thought that Bulgaria should be annexed to Roumania, but instead of that the Czar proposed to give Prince Charles only the almost worthless strip of territory between the Danube and the Black sea, and to annex to Bosnia the ruler of Bessarabia, which she lost in 1856. By making Prince Charles the ruler of Bulgaria and Roumania there will be no further trouble about Bessarabia.

Captain Howgate is hopeful that the bill appropriating $50,000 for his Polar expedition scheme will be passed by both houses of Congress early in the next session. Owing to the failure of the bill at the last session, Captain Tyson's expedition, which left last week to secure guides, etc., for the main expedition, will return this fall. It is said by Arctic navigators that this is the most favorable season ever known for Polar exploration, on account of the general break-up of the ice, and the great area of open water.

Buckhorn Items.

BECKHORN, June 30, 1878.

Editor Herald:

The farmers are very busy plowing corn and tobacco, and fixing to thresh wheat. Messrs. E. C. Hoover & Co. started out with their threshing this week, and are expecting to do a large business this season. The opinion prevails that the wheat will yield about half crop. Corn is not looking well—insects are working on the roots of it. The crop of tobacco in this section is not much below an average crop.

Our town is looking up. Godshew & Schwab have brought on the largest stock of goods ever brought to the Horn. They are at present occupying Mr. Hamilton's store-house, but have bought a lot, and are preparing to build thereon.

Dr. Foster is engaged in prizeing tobacco. Prof. Hawkins has been prevented from teaching school for some time on account of sickness, but is now getting better.

If any thing new happens, I will advise you by blowing my horn.

Wilson's Mills Items.

WILSON'S MILLS, July 1, 1878.

Editor Herald:

Corn is looking very well, but getting in the weeds owing to the wet weather. What resembles the candidates very closely—the shocks very thick upon the ground—so are the candidates upon all accounts.

The health of the place is not so good at present as heretofore, bilious fever of typhoid Mrs. Joseph Hoover is still lying very low. Mrs. Edmond Edson is also dangerously ill; typhoid fever, I understand.

Barbecues and picnics are the order of the day. Let's all go to the Sabbath-school celebration at Hartford and enjoy ourselves. The horse-swapping at Hines' Mills, June 29th, went off very (in)allegorically. Had it not been for some thirty or forty of the jolly boys we might have heard what the candidates said. However they were all penceable—just full of fun, you know. More anon.

U. N. QUIRE.

Debating Society.

At a meeting of some of the young men of Hartford, on Wednesday night, June 26th, a society was organized for the purpose of cultivating and developing the powers of the mind, by mutually receiving and imparting what information each one could upon the subjects selected by the society for discussion. The Masonic Hall was selected as the place of meeting, and Saturday night in each week the following Saturday night. The evening passed pleasantly and harmoniously, and for the success of our debate we refer to the ladies and gentlemen who honored us with their presence. The best of order was observed, and we extend thanks to the ladies and gentlemen for their interest taken, and shall be pleased to see them and others at our next meeting. We had a conversation a few days since with a gentleman who is well known as a lover of literature and a devotee to its pursuit, upon the practicability and probable success of an institution of this kind in Hartford. We were greatly encouraged to go on in our undertaking and make it a success. The gentleman said our town had long needed something of this kind, and that every young man who wishes to improve should go into it. Some whom we have solicited to join us have tried to excuse themselves on the plea of "no time to spare." Now we know, as you yourself, that there is not one young man in town who can not get off from business cares one night in a week. How many of your nights do you spend till two or three o'clock playing that most abominable and debasing game "cards," or worse still, if possible, indulging with little companions in the "social glass," which contaminates your mental, moral and physical nature. Then young men renounce from henceforth your evil habits, which can but produce misery and remorse at last, and give us your assistance to advance the cause of education and morality rather than retard it, for by its advancement alone can we expect to attain a better and nobler man and womanhood. I am yours,

AMASSAGLEMAN.

Louisville Markets.

LOUISVILLE, July 1, 1878.—Business was very good last week for this time of the year. There was but little done in the horse and mule market. The demand was good at fair prices, but there was no comparative activity on the market. The cattle market was steady, good to choice selling at 30 to 40 cts. Hogs were active at a steady advance and closed firm, all sold at $3.50 and 4.10. Good sheep and lambs steady at 20 cts. Provisions were firm and active at an advance of about $1.25 on the cut over last quotations. Poultry steady. Eggs, $2.00 50; young chickens, $1.00 25 per dozen. Eggs laid since Monday, per dozen by the case, good fresh country butter, 10 to 12 cts. per pound. The grain market remains steady and without quotable change. Produce—Potatoes, home grown, 70 cts. per barrel in bulk on arrival; onions, $1.25 per barrel; cucumbers, 20 cts. per dozen by the barrel. Fruits—Peaches, $1.50 25 per bushel; will go on plums, $1.25 per bushel; blackberries, $2 per bushel; apples, 50 cts. to $1.25 per barrel.

The tobacco trade revived last week. The receipts for the week were 2,779 bbls., against 1,932 the week before. The sales were 1,875 bbls., against 1,668 for same week last year. There were three days of special sales of fine tobacco. The highest prices were $87 for bright wrappers, $10.50 for cutting, $15.25 for plug wrapper, and $14.75 for dark. During the week 100 bbls. of fine to selections of dark, rich, heavy bodied leaf sold at prices ranging from $11.50 to $15.25, the bulk being taken for abroad. Cutting tobaccos brought extreme prices when offered, and other grades sympathized. The offerings were limited, however. The Tobacco News of Saturday says: In consequence of this limit to the offerings, the sales of the week do not foot up any thing like they would have done in all probability, so that we may reasonably believe that the full week, and from the present high figures now ruling, holders may feel more disposed to "let down the bars and let the buyers in." The market for the week, many of them being still hungry, and like Oliver Twist, crying for more. But the fine, fat rich tobaccos that are known to be in store yet, are held over till higher prices ensue.

VEGETINE FOR DROPSY.

I never shall Forget the First Dose.

PROVIDENCE.

MR. H. R. STEVENS.—

Dear Sir:—I have been a great sufferer from dropsy. I was confined to my house more than a year. Six months of the time I was entirely helpless. I was obliged to have two men help me in and out of bed. I was swollen 19 inches larger than my natural size around my waist. I suffered all a man could live and die. I tried all remedies for Dropsy. I had three different doctors. My friends all expected I

OLD, TRIED, AND TRUE.

People are getting acquainted—and those who are not ought to be—with the wonderful merits of this great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN Mustard Liniment, FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory such surprising antidotes for the maladies of her child. The Mexican Mustard Liniment is a medicine remedy for all external ailments of man and beast. To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable. A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot rot, hoof rot, hock rot, grub, sore mouth, shoulder rot, mange, the bites and stings of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every malady which attacks livestock and stock life. It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, fetlocks, swelling, sprains, founder, wind-gall, etc., etc.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is sufficient to cure.

A Mexican Mustard Liniment is put up in three sizes of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, St. Anthony's Fire, Eruptions and Eruptive diseases of the skin, Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Pimples, Pastilles, Boils, Blisters, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhoea, arising from internal ulceration, and Uterine disease, Syphilis and Mercurial disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, General Debility, and for Purifying the Blood.

This Sarsaparilla is a combination of vegetable alteratives—Sellingia, Mandrake, Yellow Dock—with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and is the most efficacious medicine yet known for the diseases it is intended to cure.

Its ingredients are so skillfully combined, that the full alternate effect of each is assured, and while it is so mild as to be harmless even to children, it is still so effectual as to purge out from the system those impurities and corruptions which develop into loathsome disease.

The reputation it enjoys is derived from its cures, and the confidence which prominent physicians all over the country repose in it, prove their experience of its usefulness.

Certificates attesting its virtues have accumulated, and are constantly being received, and as many of these cases are publicly known, they furnish convincing evidence of the superiority of this Sarsaparilla over every other alternative medicine. So generally is its superiority to any other medicine known, that we need no more than to assure the public that the best qualities it has ever possessed are strictly maintained.
